

Coach Ivan Privilov, whose training methods are in vast demand around the world, provides students with a truly unique hockey learning experience. It is his philosophy that the talent level of the hockey player is directly related to his or her skating ability, therefore, his drills focus primarily on edgework and power skating both on the ice and through dryland training.

Coach Privilov not only enhances the students' skills with his unique techniques, but he has the outstanding ability to bring the best performance out in each individual skater. His unique coaching philosophy has proven to develop up to 90% of a player's physical capability. The Privilov approach promotes sportsmanship and enables each student to fully understand themselves, inspiring them to develop strong moral and human qualities.

The results of concentrated study and coaching undertaken by Ivan Privilov over a 25-year span has enabled him to become one of most authoritative persons working with youth hockey players. This recognition has been created by successful achievements in hockey tournaments and friendship matches in the USA, Canada, Mexico, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Germany, Russia and Belarus.

Privilov Method students' achievements:

- NHL: Dainius Zubrus – New Jersey Devils and Andrey Zuzin – Chicago Blackhawks
- US Olympic Team: Sarah Parsons and Helen Resor
- Many have been accepted to US prep schools and colleges.

Students are urged and taught to take full advantage of their individual strengths, translating them into exceptional complete hockey participation. Embrace the Privilov Method, and with hard work and determination, high levels of success can be achieved.

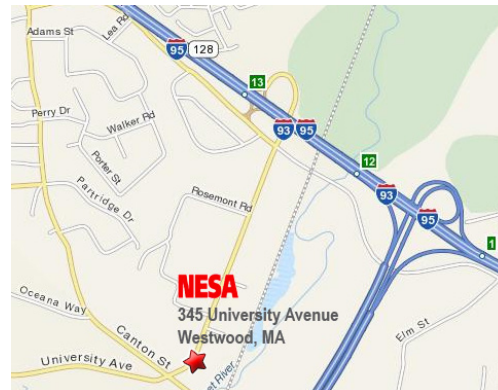

Our Vision: New England Sports Academy will change the way sports are taught and delivered in the United States by bringing companies, communities and governmental organizations together at a grassroots level.

Families Wanted to Host Skaters from the Ukraine!

How would you like to experience hosting one or more of the amazing children who skate for Ivan Privilov's Druzhba '78 Hockey Team from the Ukraine? The children visiting this summer will be boys born between 2000 and 1997 who have been participating in Coach Privilov's Unique Hockey School on the East Coast since early June. Many are from Kharkov in the Ukraine.

Camps are running August 16-20 at the Foxboro Sports Center and NESAC in Westwood. The skaters will be arriving on or around Sat., August 14 and will be leaving Boston Sat., August 21 (time/locations TBD).

Families will bring the children they host (it's good to keep two together, but you may choose to host one) in the morning to the assigned camp, and pick them up in the evening. Your responsibility beyond transportation most days, will be providing breakfast, dinner and a place to sleep (an air mattress, sleeping bag, or sofa is all that is needed, no guest room required!). Lunch will be provided during camp. Host families will receive a $50 reduction in their camp registration fee.

Those who have hosted summers past will tell you what a pleasure these children are to share your homes with. It is a wonderful opportunity to open the world up to your families. Billeting Contact: Lynn McNamee
